Declaration:

I, the undersigned, as the author (or on behalf of all co-authors), hereby declare and commit to the following:

1. The manuscript submitted to the Journal of Basic and Applied Sciences is an original work of mine/ours, and has not been previously published, in whole or in part, in any journal or scientific conference, nor is it currently under consideration for publication elsewhere.
2. The manuscript is free from all forms of plagiarism or academic misconduct, and all quotations and references are properly cited in accordance with recognized academic standards.
3. I/We bear full responsibility for the content of the manuscript, its scientific accuracy, and any legal or ethical consequences that may arise.
4. I/We commit to reviewing the final version of the manuscript before publication and to cooperating fully with the editorial board and reviewers in making any required revisions within the specified timeframe.
5. In the case of multiple authors, I confirm that all listed co-authors have made a genuine contribution to the manuscript, and that they are aware of and have approved its submission for publication.

Copyright:

- Upon acceptance for publication, all copyrights of the manuscript are transferred to the Journal of Basic and Applied Sciences, including rights of printing, electronic publication, and archiving.
- The author(s) may use parts of the published work in future research provided that proper acknowledgment of the original publication in the journal is made, and prior editorial approval is obtained.
